NO CHARGES IN SHOOTING SCRAPE FILED

Charles Skinner Still Held in Lee County Jail in Dixon

Shootings have been quite prevalent in Lee county during the past six weeks, there having been an average of one victim each week during that period. The wave of gun affairs began just before the holidays when LaVal Shank wounded James Marsh with a revolver on the night of November 15 at the latter's home on East Bradshaw street.

The next shooting, claimed to have been accidental, resulted in the wounding of William Christos at his home in Shaw's Station, when he was shot with a rifle and shot gun both of which weapons were said to have fallen while loaded.

Dorothy and William Brickie of Ashton were double victims of a revolver battle at their home in Ashton Sunday morning, Jan. 20, when she was said to have attempted his life and falling, fired a bullet into her own breast. Both are confined at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital and their recovery is now anticipated after they had remained in a critical condition for several days.

Amboy Girl Better

Wednesday night's attempted double murder in the southwest corner of Amboy when Miss Olive Derwent, popular high school student, was shot five times and her companion, John Scott, wounded once as they sat in the latter's car in the driveway in front of the Derwent home was the fourth. Miss Derwent was reported to have spent a very restful night and her condition was somewhat improved early today. Late this afternoon, however, reports from the Amboy hospital were to the effect that she was apparently not as strong as earlier in the day. John Scott, her companion at the time of the shooting was about his duties, his wound having been only superficial.

Charles Skinner, Amboy poet and former Illinois Central railroad fireman, continued to maintain his innocence of the Wednesday night's shooting, despite the fact that Miss Derwent has several times named him as the man whom she observed throw open the door of Scott's car and, without uttering a word, open fire with a "shiny" revolver. No charges had been preferred against Skinner at a late hour this afternoon, it was said at the county jail.

In all of the shootings, the victims have escaped being killed. State's Attorney Edward A. Jones, has indicated that charges of assault with intent to commit murder would be preferred against Skinner. This official also stated that charges would be preferred against Dorothy Brickie, patient at the Dixon hospital, for shooting William Brickie in their home in Ashton on Sunday morning, Jan. 20.

Huey Long Cheers Attack On News Photographer By His Bodyguard this Morn

AP Man Victim Brutal Assault in New Orleans Train Shed

New Orleans, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Huey Long arrived in New Orleans today from Washington and got off the train at the depot, surrounded by a throng of bodyguards whose first act was to beat up a news photographer and smash his camera to pieces on the concrete floor of the railroad shed.

The photographer was Leon Trice of the staff of The Associated Press who had taken a picture of Senator Long stepping off of the train from Washington.

As he snapped the picture, Joe Messina, Long's chief body guard, struck Trice in the mouth with his fist. Trice, who was not match physically with the husky bodyguard, dropped his camera.

Long Cheers Attack

Long, who was looking on, shouted: "Give it to him, Joe! Do anything you want to with him!"

With that, Messina struck the photographer with a blackjack on the back of the head and knocked him down. The bodyguards then destroyed the camera and stalked off with the Senator. The cameraman was struck with the blackjack as he leaned over to pick up his camera. It came without warning as the bodyguards had not said objection would be made to pictures. Trice was taken to a hospital where his wounds were dressed.

Senator Long declined to say anything bearing on the military-political state of affairs and hurried off to his hotel surrounded by a group of guards and followers. He went to Baton Rouge later in the day.

Stock Exchanges May be Forced to Close for Court Decision

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Securities & Exchange Commission was authoritatively reported today to be giving serious consideration to closing the stock exchanges if the Supreme Court's gold case decision is made public during market hours.

The commission has full legal power to close the exchanges in emergencies. No decision has been reached, but the commission will be ready to act on Monday if the court hands down its ruling then.

In the recent oil decision, the court's opinion was not delivered until after the market closed in New York but it was before the close of western exchanges.

He Causes Arrest of Leader of Square Dealers Today

AP Man Victim Brutal Assault in New Orleans Train Shed

Baton Rouge, La., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Backed by heavily armed National Guardsmen, Senator Huey P. Long hurried into Baton Rouge today from Washington and struck swiftly at his opponents with the arrest of Ernest Bourgeois, leader of the Square Deal Association which has been demanding the end of his dictatorial rule of Louisiana.

The militant Bourgeois was arrested by a detachment of National Guardsmen here and taken to military headquarters in the state house apparently for questioning by Brigadier General Louis G. Guerre, chief of the state police.

Meanwhile Long entrenched his position under martial law to resume court hearings this afternoon into his charge that certain public officials and other citizens of the Baton Rouge area had plotted his death.

Headquarters in Hotel

Long was whisked here from New Orleans immediately after he left his train from Washington at a New Orleans railroad station and set up his dictatorship headquarters in the Heidelberg hotel.

From there he directed his emissaries to and fro in strict military style with the entire parish of East Baton Rouge under rifle patrol while his enemies of the Square Deal camp, led by Bourgeois, cloaked their movements in secrecy as they mapped a campaign against the dictatorship.

Eleven Germans Killed in Crash of Airplane

Berlin, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Eleven persons were killed when a passenger airplane crashed at 7 P. M. last night at Paderborn, near Stuttgart. The dead are the plane's crew of three and its eight passengers, all Germans.

The ship was a low-winged plane of the German-Russian Airways, en route from Koenigsberg to Berlin. Fog and rain clouds forced the pilot to fly low. Close to the Stettin airfield the radio operator announced the plane's altitude at 500 feet. Ten minutes later the plane ran full speed into a hill 450 feet high.

BREAK BETWEEN PRESIDENT AND A. F. OF L. NEARS

Extension of Auto Code By Roosevelt Attacked by Federation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced today organized labor would "not accept" the automobile code extended by President Roosevelt last night until June 16.

He made the statement to a Senate judiciary subcommittee considering the Black 30-hour week bill in these words: "We protest against this code. We will not accept it, not recognize it, not yield on it."

Green said the code has "absolutely failed" to spread work "because under it the workers are compelled or required to work all most unlimited hours at the discretion of the automobile manufacturers."

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Relations between the administration and the chiefs of the American Federation of Labor approached the breaking point today after the President, without granting A. F. of L. wishes, extended the automobile code with changes designed to spread employment.

Roosevelt said the action meant "two distinct and important advances which are designe substantially to improve employment conditions"; President William Green of the American Federation of Labor declared bitterly that the code was "imposed on labor" without a hearing; while an NRA official, explaining why A. F. of L. leaders were not consulted, pointed to recent government-supervised elections in Detroit.

It was said at blue eagle headquarters that over 90 per cent of employees eligible in nine plants participated in these elections. The National Automobile Labor Board, headed by Dr. Leo Wolman, announced last week that nearly 90 per cent of these recorded themselves as not affiliated with any labor organization.

A. F. of L. Fights Board

The A. F. of L. seeking to have the board abolished as biased, had announced it was requesting its members not to vote in the election. It said the results showed "Dr. Wolman's scheme was impractical and impossible."

After a conference with Donald Richberg, NRA officials and leaders of the industry, Roosevelt acted last night just a short time before the auto code was due to expire at midnight. He extended it to June 16, with two changes. One provided for the introduction of new car models in the fall, instead of January. The other calls for time and half pay for overtime worked in excess of 48 hours a week.

Both are devices to spread employment. By helping iron out peaks of production, officials said the earlier introduction of models aims to give workers three months additional employment a year.

Order "Objectionable"

When informed that the code had been renewed without the changes desired by the A. F. of L. Green said that "abandonment of hearings is highly objectionable to labor."

The federation's demands for erasure of the "merit clause" which authorizes employers to hire and fire without regard to union affiliation, was not granted, nor was its request for removal of the automobile relations board.

SHIP-BUILDERS ASKED TO HELP FRANKLIN WIN

Were Solicited to Contribute to F. D. R.'s Campaign Fund

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Copies of letters sent from Democratic headquarters in the fall of 1932 asking shipbuilders to contribute to the Roosevelt campaign to put "other than a pacifist in the White House" were introduced in evidence today at the Senate munitions committee hearing.

The letters bore the typed name of Arthur P. Homer, Washington marine architect, who yesterday was described variously as a paint salesman and a close friend of President Roosevelt.

He was said by a committee investigator to have once stated he was associated with the President in the lobster business.

The letters were introduced by Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich.), sole committee member present at the time.

Vandenberg listed Homer as head of the "marine" division of the Democratic National Campaign Committee, Biltmore hotel, New York City.

Barely were the letters introduced than Charles Langslet, chief estimator of the New York Shipbuilding Company, testified that while material and labor costs on cruiser construction increased about $900,000 from 1927 to 1934, the contract price charged by the companies mounted from about $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

State Republican Committee Called to Decatur Feb. 19

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Chairman Justus L. Johnson of Aurora today issued a call for a meeting of the Republican state central committee at the St. Nicholas hotel at Decatur February 19.

It was expected that in addition to receiving an auditor's report, the committee would consider the division of authority resulting from the creation of a managing committee at the last meeting in Chicago when some of the members objected to Johnson's policies.

The Republican leaders are meeting at Decatur, it was explained, because Committeeman James A. Henson of that district has been ill.

TROOPS, CIVIL OFFICERS IN RIVAL CAMPS

Clay County, Ky., is Virtually Under Martial Rule

Manchester, Ky., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Filing of a suit for $25,000 damage against Brigadier General Ellerbe W. Carter following seizure of an automobile in the roundup of allegedly stolen cars in Clay county was made known today.

General Carter, upon learning of the suit today, said that martial law would be declared in the county which has been under military rule since 135 National Guardsmen and state police descended unexpectedly upon it early yesterday.

To Probe Offenses

Coinciding with the arrival today of 75 more guardsmen from Bourbonville and Harlan, General Carter stated he would begin an inquiry into the offices of various county officials.

Licenses have been issued for stolen cars in the past year, he said. "We want to find out how many."

Frank Carnahan, garage man who filed the $25,000 damage suit, also obtained an order from Circuit Court Judge W. E. Begley for return of the car seized in his garage, and for a writ of habeas corpus for his release. Carnahan was released before the order was served. In his damage suit he charged humiliation and mental anguish at the hands of state police under General Carter.

Officials Unnamed

Governor Ruby Laffoon, who ordered the guardsmen to this region after a Federal investigator had labeled it "the worst stronghold of crime in the United States," declined to name any official suspected of dereliction in duty, but he indicated today that action would be taken to purge the law enforcement machinery here.

In Frankfort an authoritative source revealed that the Governor had ordered Gen. Ellerbe B. Carter, in command of the National Guard detail, to look into the effectiveness of the Clay county officials.

Headed by Official?

The same source recalled the significant declaration of Adjt. Gen. H. H. Denhardt, after secret orders for the military occupation were disclosed, that "a county official" in Clay county headed an automobile theft ring, and that this official was aided by another county official.

General Carter, however, declined to say whether County Judge Begley, Sheriff T. C. McDaniel or Commonwealth Attorney William Rice were being specifically investigated for non-performance of duty.

Court Suspended

Judge Begley adjourned court here yesterday when General Carter refused to give custody of state policeman Clyde Jones to the court. Judge Begley said the county was under martial law when a military authority refused to turn over a prisoner to the civil courts. Jones was indicted for house breaking and larceny, after he had spotted approximately 40 stolen automobiles.

He did not return to the county until the guardsmen occupied it at dawn yesterday. He was at his home in nearby Laurel county today, having left on a military pass signed by General Carter.

Scream Cost Wife of Holdup Victim Her Life Last Eve

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A scream cost Mrs. Anna Marie Schmitt, 36, her life.

One of two robbers who entered her husband's bakery last night shot and killed her apparently for no reason other than the single hysterical cry that escaped her lips.

The robbers had already taken what cash there was in the place when Mrs. Schmitt screamed. The police believe she was trying to warn her husband, Frank, who was asleep in the rear of the shop when the gunmen entered.

The killer and his companion escaped.

The exit of the 625 cleared the pits of strikers for 73 of the number who went below the surface, previously had emerged. When the last group came up they released the 40 Socialist coal miners whom they had held as hostages.

PARTLY CLOUDY WEATHER DISH FOR GROUNDHOG

Lee County Citizens Hope Forecasters are Correct

People of Lee County and vicinity are rather tired of the weatherman's predictions of late, especially during January when the mercury dipped to 12 below. They will be more interested in learning what Johnny Ground Hog thinks about it when he steps forth tomorrow and looks over his left shoulder.

Legend says that if Mr. Ground Hog sees his shadow, Dixitones or anybody else for that matter, are in for six more weeks of winter. If he fails to see the shadow, he will kick up his heels and abandon his hibernation with the assurance that spring is just around the corner.

The ground hog's chances of seeing his shadow are not very good, citizens are hopefully inclined to believe, in view of the fact that sunny days this winter have been somewhat of a rarity. February 2, therefore, will be one day that most residents hope Old Sol will hide his rays. The official forecast is "partly cloudy to cloudy."

Hunter Associates of Dixon Not Guilty in Death of Mrs. McCune

The jury in the Circuit Court selected yesterday to try the damage suit brought by Joseph Alkinson, administrator of the estate of Christine McCune, deceased, against the Hunter Associates, Inc. of this city, returned a verdict of not guilty last evening. The case went to the jury shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and about 8 o'clock last evening a verdict was reached.

Judge Albert H. Manus of Freeport, who is presiding at the present January term, excused the petit jury panel for the term as yesterday's case was the final one appearing on the trial docket for the January term. Judge Manus will return to Dixon to preside in the Circuit Court Monday and during his absence Judge Harry Edwards will occupy the bench.

extension of its NRA code as amended by President Roosevelt. The extension of the industry's code through June 16 came as a group of workers in the Fisher Body Corporation's Lansing factory voted a strike against what they termed "intolerable working conditions." The strike vote was an aftermath of a walkout by a small group of sanders in the Fisher plant at Lansing Thursday and the resultant shutdown of both that factory and the Olds Motor Works for a few hours. The Olds plant gets its supply of automobile bodies from the Fisher factory.

Statements Withheld
Comment on the extension of the code, with its amendments designed to spread employment, was not immediately forthcoming from either labor or manufacturers' spokesmen.

The situation in the Lansing Fisher factory was being watched closely today by labor leaders and manufacturers in view of a statement by Clyde W. Cook, representative of the American Federation of Labor, that the proposed strike might spread to "state proportion."

"My prediction is based upon the wage and general working conditions in Fisher factories in the state," Cook said.

DISCLAIM "FISCH MYTH"
(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)
Flemington, N. J., Feb. 1—(AP)—The combined opinion of eight state experts that Bruno Richard Hauptmann wrote the Lindbergh ransom notes was disputed today by the first defense expert, and Hauptmann's attorneys formally disclaimed part of the so-called "Fisch myth."

Former intimations that the dead Isador Fisch might have written the notes or kidnapped and slain Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., were wiped away by the defense chief Edward J. Reilly during a recess argument.

Reilly held, nevertheless, to a contention that Fisch, not Hauptmann, was the receiver of the futile $50,000 Lindbergh ransom.

John M. Trendley, of East St. Louis, Ill., declared it his opinion that the important first ransom note, known as the nursery note, "was written by a left-handed person trying to disguise his handwriting."

Criticized Chart
He charged, moreover, that the chart prepared by Albert S. Osborn, the chief handwriting expert for the state, which was used by Osborn and other experts to illustrate notes with Hauptmann's handwriting, ignored all but three words in the first note.
Up to the noon recess, when he was still undergoing direct examination, Trendley took up the nursery note line by line and word by word to show why he believed Hauptmann was not the writer.

Reilly declared: "We never contended Fisch wrote the notes or that he perpetrated the crime. I believe that he got the ransom money. We don't know who wrote the ransom notes."

RELIEF BILL IS ALSO ATTACKED BY LABOR CHIEF

Green Says it Will Wreck Wage Structure of Private Industry

Washington, Feb. 1 —(AP)—A blast of criticism from organized labor was directed at the administration's $4,880,000,000 work relief bill today as that controversial measure continued under the critical scrutiny of the senate appropriations committee.

Appearing before another senate group, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said the plan to pay a maximum of $50 a month on public works projects would "tear down the wage structure of private industry and reduce the purchasing power" of the workers.

Labor Apprehensive
"We are indeed apprehensive about this," he said. "Instead of being a benefit to wage earners it is going to injure them. We are insisting that in the expenditure of the money the prevailing wage of the locality shall be maintained."

"As long as the output per worker per hour continues to increase," he said, "we can not realize full employment unless hours of work per wage earner are sufficiently curtailed to offset increasing productivity or compensation per employee is sufficiently increased to develop an ever-expanding market."

Green at the time was urging a senate judiciary subcommittee to approve legislation for a national maximum 30-hour work week. In another part of the Capitol, Chairman Glass (D. Va.) of the appropriations group and its members pressed administration spokesmen for more details on how the $4,880,000,000 would be spent.

Fund Nearly Gone
As the committee deliberated, the relief administration was down to its last $500,000,000 and distributed funds to states on a "day to day" basis, with no commitments beyond Feb. 10.

Harry L. Hopkins, estimating the federal relief needs for February at $150,000,000, said no funds would be available after February 10 unless congress passes the $4,880,000,000 work bill. The measure includes $880,000,000 for "tapering off" relief.

-- MUST PAY WIFE --
Allerton, Ill., Feb. 1 —(AP)—Winfield Angus must repay the $2,500 his wife claims she earned to put him through college.

Circuit Judge Craig Van Meter ruled yesterday that Angus who asked a divorce from Mary Angus, must pay court costs in addition to the $2,500 which she earned by teaching school to send her husband through the University of Illinois.

Too many wives, said the judge, send their husbands through school and then they are sued for divorce because they can't keep an equal mental pace.

Dried Fruits a Tasty Economy

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

If you family is in the least like mine you have to keep a dish of stewed dried fruits in the ice box almost all the time to meet demands for the extra taste of something that just seems to set off even the most sumptuous meal.

Of course, if the youngsters get wise to the presence of a package of dried fruits in the pantry, I won't have many left to stew—that's how popular these fruity morsels are in almost any state.

Should your family never have developed an appetite for dried fruit dishes, it is possible that you need to try some other way of preparing them. And you really should, because they not only are an important asset to the diet but they provide needed nourishment at minimum cost. In other words, they represent economy in fruits.

Long, Slow Cooking Needed.
All must be cooked long and slowly to soften the skin.

To bring out their fullest flavor, prunes, soaked over night in cold water, should be simmered below the boiling point for three or four hours, then allowed to stand for four or five hours. Sugar should be added before removing from the fire only long enough to completely melt it.

Raisins and figs can be stewed in a little water until tender to make a good sauce to use over rice and cornstarch puddings.

For sandwich fillings, dates, figs, raisins and prunes can be finely chopped and combined with cottage cheese or with cream cheese. Or the chopped fruits may be moistened with orange or lemon juice.

Steamed figs served in their own juice or with cream make an acceptable dessert for children.

Many salads are improved by the addition of raisins or prunes.

Steamed fig pudding uses biscuit crumbs to splendid advantage. It's quite rich, so serve it some evening when the main course of the dinner has been light. A fish dinner finishes up with the fig pudding exceptionally well.

Great Britain holds 1450 tons of fine gold and ranks third among nations of the world in this respect. Spain ranks fourth with 655 tons. Belgium fifth with 555 tons, and Italy sixth with 500 tons.

Beauty Emerges From Facial Masks

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Masks generally are considered the most pretentious of all beauty treatments. If done by a professional they cost a good deal, too. However, you can apply homemade ones yourself and, if you follow a few simple rules, be perfectly sure that your skin will be benefited.

Never smooth a mask of any kind on dirty or even slightly dusty skin. Clean your face and neck thoroughly before you start. Always leave the preparation on until it is absolutely dry. If you remove it while the mixture is still moist, you will have wasted the time spent applying it. If your skin is dry or normal, better use tissue cream immediately after washing off the masks. If it is oily, omit the tissue cream.

Don't expect one mask treatment to work an overnight miracle. Not until you have applied one week for at least ten weeks can you hope to notice a decided improvement in the texture and color of your complexion. Try several types to determine just what does you the most good.

There are commercially prepared masks, of course, and any number that can be made inexpensively at home. You might use that old standby, raw egg mask, and see what it will do.

Separate the yolk from the white and lightly stir each one in a bowl. Then, after cleaning the face and neck smooth on a layer of white from base of the throat right up to the hairline. Let it dry. Cover with a layer of yolk and let it dry, too. Repeat in layers until all of the egg is used. Then lie down for twenty minutes or until the mask is dry. Wash off with warm water.

ORDINARY FOLKS

(By Joseph Fort Newton.)

MOST of us belong to the Great Obscure; our names are known to only a few. We build no palaces, win no battles, write no poems, paint no pictures. We are not very greatly gifted, and we know it.

The great lead, we follow. We walk in the rank and file of humble humanity. We accept the limits of our nature and lot, and live our lives among the lowly. We belong to the family of ordinary folk.

If we only knew it our lot is the happiest on earth. Fame is fleeting; only a few names are remembered. Fortune is fickle. It lifts a man to the height one day, and throws him in the ditch the next.

Yet neither our lot nor our lack of great gifts need dwarf our life or hinder its usefulness. After all, greatness does not lie in dazzling genius which for a few days sets the world all agog.

Some of the greatest people it has been my lot to know were simple, humble, everyday folk. There was a mother of twelve, whose income was never large, but in the way known only to mothers she made it do.

All went well until one day the father was smitten, and a few weeks later he lay to rest. The situation was desperate enough to break the stoutest heart, but the mother was not one to give up.

She faced her tragedy with a heroism as fine as ever sent a soldier over the top. By hard work, good management and pluck she fed and clothed and educated her family, and they were an honor to her.

During the years she lost three of her flock; the other nine are living today. It was a lovely sight to see them together in days gone by. Her hair was white, her back bent, but she was happy.

She lived a great life in a small place, unknown to fame, unsung by any poet. A painting of her face, with its fine, firm, lovely lines, would be a benediction to the world for she was one of the ranks.

Such lives make the world as decent as it is. Without them it would rot and stink. It is not where we live but how! Not what we do but the spirit of the doing. The rest does not matter at all.

EASILY SERVED SUNDAY DINNER

(Most Of Preparation Made Day Prior)

The Menu

Tomato Juice Cocktail

Baked Ham

(Serve Reheated or Cold)

Sweet Potato Souffle

(Reheated)

Buttered Spinach

Apple and Celery Salad

Macaroni Dessert Coffee

Baked Ham

9 pound ham

1 cup brown sugar

24 whole cloves

1 cup pineapple juice

1-2 cup orange juice

1-2 cup vinegar

Scrub ham and cut off rind. Fit into baking pan. Press cloves in fat side and top ham with sugar. Add half rest of ingredients. Cover and bake 2 hours in slow oven. Baste every 20 minutes. Add rest of ingredients and bake another 2 hours or until ham is very tender when tested with long handled fork.

If desired the ham can be boiled 2 hours in water to cover and then baked 1 1-2 hours in slow oven.

This method of cooking produces a deliciously flavored ham, provided care is taken in the actual baking, as the ham must be basted often and watched not to have too much heat.

Sweet Potato Souffle

3 cups mashed sweet potatoes

1 egg

2 tablespoons cream

1-4 teaspoon cinnamon

1-2 teaspoon salt

1-4 teaspoon paprika

Mix ingredients and roughly pile in buttered baking dish. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven.

Macaroni Dessert

(Dainty and Tasty)

4 egg yolks

1-3 cup sugar

2 cups milk

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin

4 tablespoons cold water

1 teaspoon vanilla

1 cup crushed macaroons (almond)

1-4 teaspoon almond extract

1-8 teaspoon salt

Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes. Beat yolks and sugar and milk and cook in double boiler until mixture thickens a little. Be careful not to over-cook. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. Add rest of ingredients. Pour into loaf or individual molds which have been rinsed out with cold water. Chill. Unmold and serve plain or with whipped cream.

Chapter AC, Ill. P. E. O. will entertain the husbands of the members Monday evening at dinner at 6:30 at the Coffee House. After dinner the guests are invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Lehman, 113 Dement Avenue, Bluff Park.

"Davy Crockett" Beloved Character Will be Presented Monday

An unusually high class program will be presented at the high school gymnasium on Monday afternoon at 3:20, under the auspices of the High School P. T. A. when Cloud Smith, noted chautauqua and lyricist, will present the three-act play, "Davy Crockett," based upon the life of the famous Tennessee frontiersman and pioneer leader. A small charge to the public will be made.

Cloud Smith is rated as one of the finest readers and interpreters of early American plays and dialects appearing on the public stage today. He has been in many states and before many famous groups with presentation. The local High School has secured an exceptional education and entertainment feature for the students in having Mr. Smith appear here.

Mr. Smith will interpret six characters of the play he is to present. The production abounds in historical interest as well as comedy and drama. It is laid in the hills of Tennessee in the early days of the nation when the Tennessee hills formed a sort of natural barrier between the then known nation and the vast unexplored western plains.

Crockett, one of the most colorful figures in the American frontier history, is the hero of the play. His life, based on the advice of his mother gave him of "be sure you're right, then go ahead" is one of the classics of pioneer history.

New Officers for Triangle Club

At a special meeting last evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Stauffer, 313 E. Fellows St., a group of girls of the First Christian church reorganized the Triangle Club, which had been inactive for six months. The newly chosen officers are:

The club will hold regular monthly meetings for the study of missions and fellowship. Mrs. Lee Stauffer and Mrs. S. A. Bennett are the advisers, chosen by the Women's Missionary Society to supervise the activities of the club. Both having been detained by illness last evening Mrs. J. A. Barnett presided over the organization meeting. The hosts served a dainty luncheon at the close of the meeting and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Gustatory Feats of Pancake Club Will Go Down in History

The Dreadnaught Pancake Club, pardon us, Basket Ball Squad, (probably the worst team ever formed in northern Illinois, descended upon unsuspecting Miss Zulu Beck at her hospitable Inn at Grand Detour last evening and gave a first class exhibition of what a gang of hungry males, not so long past their teens, can do to a plate, (rather many plates,) of steaming cakes, with the accompanying accessories of sausages, coffee, etc., etc.

At first they were graciously, quickly and expertly served. (Miss Beck has endeared herself to many masculine and feminine hearts, too this winter, for just as long as the cakes disappear, she serves them, without additional cost.)

So these young basketball players set out to make a record. (Darn it—if they could make a record in basketball, they could, in eating cakes.) So the cakes came and disappeared, and came and disappeared, and so on, ad infinitum, until Miss Beck began to waver, and weaken in carrying the stacks, and finally, at the last lap, she sank exhausted, on the threshold of her dining room. One of the so-called squad, gallantly arose and assisted Miss Beck? No, my friends, are quietly and swiftly took the plate of cakes and hurried to the table where they began to disappear, also, when alas, and alack, the human frame will stand for just so much—walls of anguish hit the ceiling, for they could not demolish the last two cakes and so went down to defeat—even in eating pancakes!

The personnel of the club includes Jim Peck, Kenneth Abbott, Victor Kastelich and Charles Ross, and these were the young men, who went over the top last evening at the pancake fracas, or feast, or whatever. (Four is the number shy just one of being a squad. The rest of the dreadnaughts may join at any time their appetites suggest it.) They lost track of who ate the largest number of cakes, but each one ate eight or more, and they were generous in size and good—m-m-m-m-m! Ask the boys who concluded a happy evening at the theatre.

The Dreadnaught Pancake Club will meet, once or twice a month, until summer, when they will change to waffles in their gustatory attacks. That is, they will meet, if Miss Beck survives.

Meeting of True Blue Class Thurs.

The basement of the Christian church was the scene of a most enjoyable event Thursday afternoon, when about twenty-six members and friends of the True Blue Class held their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Harry Reitzel, the president presiding over the business, Mrs. A. L. Palmer gave the devotion and Mrs. J. E. Reagan, teacher, offered the prayer.

Mrs. Hal Taylor read three interesting letters of appreciation from our "Old People's Home" and the "Orphans Home" for Christmas gifts donated by the class.

Mrs. James Leach and daughter

Mrs. Ruth Biggs were in charge of the program opening with two very interesting guessing games. Little Carol Kling pleased all when she sang, "The Ginger Bread Man" and recited a poem in her sweet, inimitable way.

Mesdames Taylor, McCordie and Hall gave reminiscences of childhood days and Mrs. James Leach "brought down the house" with her story of "The Proposal."

Mrs. Mossholder, a visitor, delighted the audience with two splendid humorous readings.

The program ended with two lovely musical numbers played on the Hawaiian guitar by Mrs. Ruth Biggs, with Miss Ethel Seyster of the Young People's Class, acting as pianist, the True Blue Class appreciates her services in this capacity.

Following the program delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Bess Johnson and Mrs. Guy Mercer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Will Lindsey, 311 Chamberlain street, Feb. 28th.

Honor Miss Robertson, Mrs. Harridge

On Sunday evening a group of girls, employees at the I. N. U. office, gathered at the home of Miss Miss Wolkne, to hold a farewell picnic supper in honor of Mrs. Robert Harridge, nee Helen Minney, who is soon leaving the company to take up household duties; and also honoring Miss Ingalette Robertson, whose engagement to Edmund Gehant, has recently been announced. After the very appetizing supper was enjoyed, bridge was the diversion for the evening with Miss Robertson winning the favor for high score; Miss Frances Zoeller winning second and Miss Edith Slothower the consolation favor.

Meeting of True Blue Class Thurs.

The basement of the Christian church was the scene of a most enjoyable event Thursday afternoon, when about twenty-six members and friends of the True Blue Class held their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Harry Reitzel, the president presiding over the business, Mrs. A. L. Palmer gave the devotion and Mrs. J. E. Reagan, teacher, offered the prayer.

Mrs. Hal Taylor read three interesting letters of appreciation from our "Old People's Home" and the "Orphans Home" for Christmas gifts donated by the class.

Mrs. James Leach and daughter

Mrs. Ruth Biggs were in charge of the program opening with two very interesting guessing games. Little Carol Kling pleased all when she sang, "The Ginger Bread Man" and recited a poem in her sweet, inimitable way.

Mesdames Taylor, McCordie and Hall gave reminiscences of childhood days and Mrs. James Leach "brought down the house" with her story of "The Proposal."

Mrs. Mossholder, a visitor, delighted the audience with two splendid humorous readings.

The program ended with two lovely musical numbers played on the Hawaiian guitar by Mrs. Ruth Biggs, with Miss Ethel Seyster of the Young People's Class, acting as pianist, the True Blue Class appreciates her services in this capacity.

Following the program delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Bess Johnson and Mrs. Guy Mercer.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Will Lindsey, 311 Chamberlain street, Feb. 28th.

DIZZY DEAN IS NEW BASEBALL IDOL FOR U. S.

Nation's Boys Are Admiring Him Like Babe

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—On the basis of 24 hectic hours, the heir apparent to the throne of baseball's most popular figure, George Herman Ruth, is none other than our old World Series friend, Jerome Dizzy Dean.

Not only have they middle names in common, not only do both wear tan polo coats, but the kids and the common people go for this lanky, grinning, rawboned Cardinal right-hander as they do for Ruth, now ending his major league career as Dean is just getting under way.

Dizzy is here for the New York baseball writers' dinner Sunday night, and he's been a sensation everywhere he's gone so far. Everywhere he speaks right back. He's shaken a couple of thousand hands. He's autographed as many more cards and papers. He had a big night watching last night's hockey game in Madison Square Garden between the Americans and the Montreal Maroons.

Called Onto Ice
First they called him out on the ice to drop the puck for a sort of a complimentary face-off. James J. Braddock, who fights Art Lasky fifteen rounds in the Garden tonight, went with him, but no one saw anybody but Dizzy and the crowd cheered him mightily.

"Who was that with you?" he was asked.
"Oh," said Dizzy, "some fighter." He rested his elbows on the edge of his box, gray felt hat perched on his head like a fly on a doorknob.

WEIGHT GUESSING POPULAR
Chicago.—(AP)—World's Fair figures show 1,294,370 persons stepped on the scales to guess their weight in 1934, compared with 1,125,478 in 1933. The fair's first summer saw 1 in every 20 visitors weighed; its second year ran this figure up to 1 in every 12.

Investigate the Dixon Telegraph Insurance Policies. Why not investigate same?

while his manager Frankie Frisch, explained what was going on.
Down in Arkansas, in Oklahoma, in Texas and Bradenton, Florida, where Dizzy has shared his personality with St. Louis, they don't have much hockey. His eyes popped as the skaters whirled roughly up and down the ice, bumping each other, knocking each other down.
"Joe Medwick would love this," he said.
"Say, I sure wish I could get down to first base half as fast as those guys," he said.
"So do I wish you could," said Frisch, who is no hero-worshipper.

YANKS MAILING CONTRACTS FOR 1935 SEASON
Informal Contract To Be Sent To Bambino

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A trifle tardy by comparison with other major league clubs, the New York Yankees today began mailing player contracts. A few will be held until Monday or Tuesday so that Joe McCarthy, due in town for the baseball writers' dinner Sunday, will have a chance to glance over the figures.

Only "informal" contracts will be sent to Babe Ruth, Earle Combs, Bill Dickey, Fred Walker, Johnny Allen and Russell Van Atta, who represent a series of six "question marks" in the Yankees' plans for 1935.

The club disclaims any knowledge of just what Ruth plans to do; Combs and Dickey were injured during the 1934 season; Walker had a persistent sore arm; Allen and Van Atta failed to pitch the kind of ball expected of them.

Casey Stengel arrives tomorrow from California and probably will talk over Brooklyn's player-contract situation with general manager Bob Quinn. The main topic undoubtedly will be Van Lingle Mungo, who rejected a contract reputedly calling for $12,000.

Stopped Negro
They tossed Jersey Jim into the Garden ring not long ago against John Henry Lewis, crack Negro light heavyweight, from Phoenix who was making his New York debut. What happened that night never really was clear to John Henry until he read the newspapers the next day. Braddock caught Lewis with one crackling right in an early round and John Henry went down. He got up, all right, but never succeeded in shaking off the effects of that lethal wallop.

Now 28, Braddock fought his most sensational bouts in 1928, two years after he had begun his professional career. Tuffy Griffiths, Iowa clown, was bowling over rivals right and left in those days. He made his Garden bow against Braddock and Jimmy knocked him out in two rounds. It was in the same year that Braddock tagged Latzo, former welterweight king, with so potent a right that Pete's jaw was broken in several places. Later Braddock stopped Jimmy Slattery in nine rounds and won the right to battle Tommy Loughran for the light heavyweight title. Loughran gave the Jerseyman a boxing lesson and Braddock's star went into eclipse.

BRADDOCK TO HIT COMEBACK TRAIL TONIGHT

Carried Heavy Right Handed Wallop; Meets Lasky

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—A 13 to 5 short-end in the betting Jim Braddock hopes to blow Art Lasky clear out of the heavyweight parade tonight with the same right hand that once shattered Pete Latzo's jaw.

Lasky, rated by most boxing critics as one of the four leading contenders for Max Baer's heavyweight championship, will have youth and weight on his side and, on the form charts alone, should turn back the Jerseyman handily in their 15-round duel in Madison Square Garden.

But Braddock, attempting a comeback after what amounted to virtual retirement from the ring for a year, already has proved to the satisfaction of the customers that his right hand still carries the old dynamite.

BONTHRON IN ASTONISHING FORM FOR RACE

Trains For Games On Roof of New York Skyscraper

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Bill Bonthron has reached astonishing form for his foot-racing duel with Glenn Cunningham in the Wanamaker mile of the Millrose A. A. games tomorrow night.

The big Princeton graduate, doing his training on the Millrose A. A. skyscraper track atop the Wanamaker warehouse in cold weather, apparently is in as good condition as he ever was during his intercollegiate days.

Bonhron was clocked in 2:18, the last 120 yards in 15 seconds, for 1,000 yards the other day. On another occasion he raced a quarter in 53 seconds, jogged three-quarters and wound up with another quarter at a 54-second clip, proof enough that his famed finishing "kick" still is to be feared.

Gene Venzke of Penn, Eric Ny of Sweden and Bill Ray of Manhattan will complete the field in the Wanamaker mile.

Millrose officials announced a complete sell-out for the meet.

Shires Proves He's No Boxer Despite Noisy Contentions

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Art (What-a-man) Shires studied today the effect of a powerful right-hand wallop upon his heavyweight fighting ambitions.

The talkative first sacker, gaudily attired in new silks for his first bout in an announced drive for the Texas title, went down in the second round last night before Sid Hunter, 185-pound Texan. Referee Bennie Bickers counted ten, and Shires was up fresh as a daisy and ready to continue the scrap.

Contending the referee had counted only to nine, Shires argued loudly with the arbiter, but Bickers just laughed and raised Hunter's hand in victory.

DeKalb won from Mendota

BY ROBBIN

The lid of the good 'ole N. C. I. C. will be practically blown sky high tonight. Coach L. E. Sharpe and his purple and white cagers are going to play DeKalb in two conference basketball games.

Pony tip-off will be at approximately 7:15; place—Dixon gym.

If Dixon wins from DeKalb and Sterling loses to Mendota at Mendota, there will be a three-way tie for first place honors, with Dixon, DeKalb and Sterling each winning four and dropping two. Dixon Ponies have won every game they have played this year and if tonight brings them another victory they will only increase their conference leadership. If they lose they will share first division honors with DeKalb, each with a percentage of 80.

Boys Are All Set
After taking Belvidere in two fast conference games on the Boone county floor, the Sharpemen are all set for two more thrillers with the Drew-coached Barbs of DeKalb. Last month the Barb majors won from Dixon at DeKalb, in a game that was the poorest officiated of any that has been witnessed for some time. Dixon was leading up to the last few seconds in the final period and then Fane was put out with four personals. DeKalb not sloppy and sank four unconsolidated points that gave them the game. Dixon Ponies were more fortunate than their big brothers. They were trailing all through the game with 30 seconds left to play and DeKalb leading 11 to 10 when Allan Boyd sank the winning goal and gave the Dixon minors undisputed leadership in the lighter division.

At Full Strength
With no sickness nor worries of ineffectibility, Coach Sharpe will have his two squads at full strength to turn back the strong DeKalb championship squad. Coach Earl Drew of DeKalb has always believed Dixon was an easy mark and played them for a cinch game. Tonight he is going to get one of the biggest surprises of his life, for outside of Sterling, DeKalb is the one team that Dixon likes best to send home with their tails dragging between their legs. At Dixon's first game Drew was present and saw the Purple and White cagemen take Mt. Morris by a lop-sided score. Before the game, the DeKalb coach was heard to remark that he "guessed that DeKalb would have to take Dixon in the two conference games again this year." Coach Sharpe did not say much, but when the contest was called, he went looking for the versatile E. Drew, but the talkative man was nowhere to be found.

Sharpe will probably start the same lineup as he did at Belvidere with Evans being the alternate forward if either Flanagan or Underwood are not hitting.

DeKalb has three players, two lightweights and one heavy out with the flu, and one giant six-foot-three regular, Verdie Olsen, is lost to them for the season, his athletic career ending with the semester.

There will still be four valuable all men left for the conference cadet team. Big Bill Terwilliger, center and Koski at guard, are the ones that will figure most prominently in the DeKalb defense. Everett Swanson will be playing one of the forwards, he and Ter-

Windy Windmiller and "Slim" Mansfield, rampaging forward and center, were the principles in the lopsided 37-14 victory won by the Dixon State Hospital Yellowjackets over the St. Anthony of Rockford basketball team on the hospital floor Thursday night.

The Yellowjackets took charge of affairs immediately and rolled up an impressive 26 to 2 lead by half time. Windmiller was especially effective on his low-up shots beneath the hoop while Mansfield carried the hoop while Mansfield carried the hoop while Mansfield carried the hoop.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(AP)—That irrepressible little old man of the boxing arts, Tony Canzoneri, was in a spot today to sign up for another chance to regain the world lightweight championship.

The New York Italian came into the home town of Barney Ross, the owner of the title, last night and administered a thorough ten-round boxing lesson to Leo Rodak, a young Chicagoan who was being trained for a championship bout.

The decision of referee Tommy Gilmore and two judges was unanimous and was concurred in by a "great majority" of the 14,331 spectators who brought $31,433.10 to the Chicago Stadium.

Jim Mullen and Nate Lewis, who promoted the show—their fourth consecutive successful venture since they joined forces—were more than willing to stage a championship battle between Canzoneri and Ross in the Stadium over the 15 round stretch.

Foley Ready
Joe Foley, who has an agreement with Ross' managers, Sam Pian and Art Winch, for the champion's next title bout, is ready to "give Canzoneri action as quickly as a certified check for $2,500 is deposited with the Illinois state athletic commission by Sammy Goldman, Canzoneri's manager."

Canzoneri had too much of every thing for Rodak, a 21 year old graduate of the Golden Gloves, who had won 22 straight victories as a professional. He out-generated the youngster, an ultra-conservative boxer, most of the distance, and in the sixth clipped Rodak with a right to the chin that almost ended the fight. Rodak, however, hung on desperately, and carefully stayed out of trouble thereafter. Rodak's most impressive flashes came when Canzoneri, the aggressor, the entire fight, cornered and made him fight his way out.

Tony Weighs 132 lbs.
Canzoneri weighed 132 3-4 lbs., an edge of two pounds.

Eddie (Babe) Risko, the handsome middleweight from Syracuse who caused a great stir by stopping middleweight champion Ted Yarns New Year's Day, gained no ground by being held to a draw by Solly Dukelsky, a pretty good Chicago boxer, in the ten-round semi-final. The decision was not popular, the crowd going for Dukelsky, who split both of Risko's eyebrows and otherwise marked him after losing the first four rounds.

FOR NEW BOUT WITH MAX BAER
Boasts "I Will Beat Him To Pieces" Yesterday

Miami, Fla., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Primo Cannera and Max Baer are ready to fight "anytime, any place"—they both say that—but thus far nothing has been done to match the heavyweight champion and Cannera again.

Primo came here from South America yesterday and said: "I fight Baer anytime, any place—in the backyard or in the ring—and I beat him to pieces!"

Baer, departing for California last night, wasted now ords in his retort to Cannera's boast. He said: "Any time, any place."

But Billy DePoe, the former champion's manager, said he knew nothing of any plans to rematch Baer and Cannera.

He said Cannera would probably return to South America this month for a bout with George Godfrey at Rio De Janeiro.

FENCE BUILT TO KEEP OUT LAP HERDS

Reindeer Migrated Over Norwegian Frontiers

Washington, D. C.—A 250-mile fence will soon spring up along the Norwegian-Finnish border. Built of fir poles and wire, it will be six feet high and will prevent Lapp reindeer herds from straying uncontrolled from one country to the other.

Undefined by actual political boundaries, the land occupied by the Lapps spreads across the northern part of Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia. The Lapps, following their reindeer herds, cross from one country to another in their continual search for fresh pastures.

Prototypes for the dwarfs in Scandinavian sagas, most Lapps are between four and a half feet in height, usually stout, and of great muscular strength," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "Bulky reindeer skin and fur clothing, and shoes and gloves stuffed with dried grass, emphasize their stockiness. Because they walk early, probably because of their nomad lives, most Lapps are bow-legged and appear top-heavy.

Have Developed Types

"To watch Lapps in Bossekop, their trading center in northern Norway, is to see a fairy tale come alive. They wear fantastic, colorful clothes; tunics and belts gaily embroidered; white fur shoes; and fur leggings bound in scarlet. Little boys with red-tasseled blue caps on their singularly round heads dart about like pixies. Lapp women in layers of fringed shawls carry on their back babies done up like small mummies in wooden cradles.

"Close observers can distinguish the bright, animated Russian Lapp, whose eyes twinkle in his brown face, from the more apathetic-looking Norwegian Lapp; the peaceable, law-abiding Swedish Lapp, from the Finnish Lapp, who is quicker to draw the long knife at his belt.

"The Lapps are generally considered to be a Mongoloid people who originated in northeastern Asia, not far from Lake Baikal. They probably followed the edge of the inland ice as it shrank northward, at the end of the latest Ice Age, and wandered westward across the steppes of Asia and Siberia to the Arctic regions of northern Europe. At one time they spread southward down the Scandinavian peninsula; but, persecuted by stronger tribes, they retreated to the frozen tundras of the Arctic where most of them have remained ever since. At present, they sometimes migrate as far south as Harjedalen, a valley in west central Sweden, or halfway down the Swedish coast to Sundsvall.

Women Appreciate Machines

"Lapps speak a Finno-Ugric language which they probably adopted more than 2,000 years ago from the neighboring forefathers of the present Finns. Though taught Swedish and Norwegian in boarding schools, Lapps are loyal to their own language and revert to it immediately when removed from school and returned to their people. Other influences they accept more readily. Many tent-living Lapp women are proud owners of sewing machines.

"The Lapp population, numbering about 30,000, is made up of Sea, River, and Mountain Lapps. Sea Lapps, who exist chiefly by fishing for salmon, are the most numerous. In sod or wooden huts clustered on desolate Arctic shores, they lead more civilized and settled lives than the Mountain Lapps. River Lapps, dwelling on river banks, while dependent on fish, may also raise reindeer, a few sheep, perhaps potatoes and corn. The few who act as herders for Norwegian reindeer owners are scorned by Mountain Lapps, who style themselves 'Free Lapps.'

"In spite of a nomad existence, Mountain Lapps are not altogether free, since their wanderings must

Roosevelt May Hear Huey's Foe

The situation in Louisiana that led to the revolt by the Square Deal Association will be laid before President Roosevelt by James E. Mahaffey, above, one of the association leaders, according to a statement by Mahaffey in Biloxi, Miss. New outbreaks by the Square Dealers are feared, as Long's leaders keep a close guard to stem the revolt.

follow the dictates of their reindeer herds. A reindeer eats about 27 pounds of white moss a day; and since the moss does not grow into pasture again for several years, reindeer constantly must seek new grazing fields.

Hair Stuffs Life Belts

"In spring, when clouds of mosquitoes, gadflies and other insects buzz among sprouting birches and willows, reindeer herds flee to the islands and shores of the Atlantic, or to the grassy, wind-swept mountains on the Swedish-Norwegian border. In autumn, the reindeer return to the lowlands.

"The Lapps' willingness to follow their reindeer is understood when one remembers that the nomad's welfare is linked inseparably with that of his herd. Reindeer meat, fresh, smoked, or dried, forms his staple article of diet. His winter clothes, blankets, and sometimes his tent, are made of reindeer skins. Antlers are carved into household utensils. Bladders are made into bags in which to store cheese and other foods. Lapps sell to foreigners reindeer sinew, used as thread in surgery, and reindeer hair, used as stuffing for life belts.

"Most reindeer does are so wild that they have to be lassoed in order to be milked. They yield only a small quantity of milk but it is unusually rich. It is drunk fresh, made into a strong, oily cheese, or distilled into an intoxicating liquor. At least 100 reindeer are necessary to maintain a single family. A wealthy Lapp often possesses a herd of 1,000 or more.

"The male reindeer is used as a beast of burden. He can travel steadily about ten miles an hour drawing approximately 250 pounds in a 'pulka.' This Lapp vehicle is a gayly-painted, boat-shaped sleigh without runners. To keep one's seat in a pulka, as it bumps furiously over the snow, calls for skill. A Lapp brakes with his feet and rides with the single rein tied to his arm to prevent the reindeer running away to join a wild herd. A pulka serves many purposes. Should an angry reindeer attack him, the Lapp up-ends the pulka and uses it as a shield. Caught in a blizzard, he crawls under it as a shelter."

RELIEF WILL BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

Must Plan Means of Financing Their Program

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A conference to consider means of financing relief in Illinois will be held Tuesday by Governor Horner and a group of legislators representing both houses.

James O. Monroe, Collinsville Democrat, who is chairman of the senate revenue committee, suggested the conference to the governor who agreed that it might be useful.

Monroe is to pick six or eight senators and Speaker John Devine is to select the same number of representatives.

Before the federal government had announced a contemplated change in its relief program, which provides that it will take care of the employables with a work program and leave the unemployables to the states, Illinois had been told by Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator, that it would be asked to furnish $3,000,000 a month, about one-fourth of the sum required in this state.

Difference Not Known

What difference if any, a change in the federal program will make so far as the state is concerned has not been learned.

Numerous plans for financing the state's part of the relief burden have been suggested. Funds for the first three months of this year were obtained by diverting a treasury surplus of $9,000,000.

Under the present set-up the state will have exhausted its own relief funds sometime in April. Funding a source of revenue for this purpose after April is one of the principle tasks of the assembly.

Legislative leaders are doubtful that much can be done until plans of the federal government are matured.

Then, too, that "sore spot" of the present assembly—the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission—remains. Many bills to abolish or curtail the power of the commission have been introduced. Bitter fights directed at it have broken out on the floors of both houses in recent weeks.

To Question Directors

Wednesday the house adopted a resolution, introduced by Benjamin Adamowski, I. C. floor leader, asking members of the commission and its executive officers to appear before a joint session February 19 to answer any questions members might ask. The senate has yet to act on the resolution but there is little doubt but that it will be affirmative action.

Until these two issues have been settled—(1) the federal government's relief program and (2) the state's relief commission—little can be done by the assembly but debate the relief question.

Meanwhile, Senator Simon E. Lantz, Conservative Republican, introduced for the third time in three years his bills to require that Cook county, Chicago and other local governments levy property taxes to help pay the relief bills.

Supported by downstate Republicans, Lantz has contended that the metropolitan area has made no efforts to solve its own problems of unemployment.

VETERANS TOLD STAND CONGRESS- MEN OF ILLINOIS

State Headquarters Lists Their Stand in Pay- ment of Bonus

Officers of Dixon Post No. 12 American Legion, have received the following from state headquarters showing the position of each of Illinois' Congressmen on immediate payment of the bonus:

Bills providing for immediate cash payment of Adjusted Service Compensation Certificates (Bonus) will be before congress at the present session. The American Legion, at its last National and State conventions, went on record favoring immediate cash payment. It is now the duty of every Legionaire to put forth every effort to help secure the immediate cash payment and to have carried out the program of both our National and State conventions. In order to accomplish our purpose we must act promptly and carry out all suggestions of our department officers.

At a recent meeting of the "Bonus" committee plans were outlined to carry out a most vigorous campaign to secure the immediate cash payment and we now suggest that certain things be done immediately. We desire that every Legionaire in the state write a personal letter to each of our two United States senators to each congressman at large, and to his congressman, urging each of them to vote for immediate cash payment. All Posts are requested to pass a resolution requesting the senators, congressmen at large and congressmen to vote for the immediate cash payment, and in the event of a Presidential veto, to vote to pass the same over the veto. These resolutions should go forth immediately and all post commanders are requested to see that this is done at once. In the event we need immediate action in the future the divisional, district or post commanders are requested at some time to send further resolutions or telegrams and to cause individual Legionaires to do the same. We urge you to give such matters immediate attention.

We also urge you to have resolutions passed by your various civic organizations endorsing payment and ask your neighbors, friends and local business men to send letters to our congressmen and senators in Washington. Watch the daily papers and see just what progress is made in Washington.

In the event of a veto, the fight which will ensue in the senate will make Legion history. Neither senators Dietrich or Lewis have promised to vote for the bill. Use subject to redemption as provided by law.

all honorable means to get our senators to vote for the bill and to override the veto. This is most important.

The following inquiries have been sent by your department adjusted service compensation certificate committee to our senators and congressmen:

1. Will you vote for a bill providing for the immediate cash payment in full of the Adjusted Service Compensation Certificates, the cancellation of interest and the refund of interest paid, during the present session of this congress?

2. In the event that congress passes a bill providing for the above and the President should veto the bill, will you vote to override the veto?

3. In the event your answer to queries 1 or 2 or both is in the negative, will you state your reasons for so answering?

The following is a tabulation of the answers received to date:

Schuetz (D)—Will always vote in behalf of War Veterans.

Mitchell (D)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: won't promise.

Beam (D)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: no answer.

Church (R)—Will give it careful attention.

Reed (R)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: Will look with favor on overriding veto.

Buckbee (R)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: no answer.

Allen (R)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: Yes.

Thompson (D)—Will vote as majority of constituents wish.

Adair (D)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: Yes.

Dirksen (R)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: Yes.

Arends (R)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: Yes.

Dobbins (D)—Answer on First Vote: No; answer on Veto: No.

Lucas (D)—Filed letter for future reference.

Parsons (D)—Answer on First Vote: Yes; answer on Veto: no answer.

Keller (D)—Voted for it before; will do the right thing.

J. Hamilton Lewis: Will give it consideration.

The district and post commanders in districts where congressmen have not given a favorable response should immediately see that much opposition by the constituents of those congressmen is registered in Washington. This means not only opposition from Legionaires, but from local business men and from civic organizations. Flood them with telegrams and letters.

Our National Legislative Committee is backing the Vinson Bill, H. R. 3866, and not the Patman Bill. Do not divide our strength. Support the Vinson Bill.

Suggest that in the event any post or district commander will not be able to act immediately, that he designate someone to act for him and notify the adjusted service compensation certificate committee of his name, address and post or district; also Bill Mundt.

Might Pen Movies

If Writing Today

Hollywood—W. P. Lipscomb, who hails from William Shakespeare's country and himself a writer, is putting Shakespeare in the movies as Shakespeare himself would have filmed his plays.

Furthermore, says Lipscomb without hems or haws, Shakespeare in Hollywood today would be a scenario writer, and a fellow who would rip the fronts and backs of learned professors who quibble over such items as whether the bard meant to use "but" or "and" in an immortal speech.

Wrote To Order

"Shakespeare was a craftsman writing things to order, just like a scenarist," Lipscomb salls, "and he wrote what the producer wanted. He probably had a Darryl Zanuck shouting at him to change this or build up that, because the change would make for better box office. And he would make this little die-for-my-art complex, no going off by himself in a corner to brood and thus produce a masterpiece. He didn't think about creating masterpieces. He was a craftsman writing what the bosses wanted, and making money at it."

"Today we have a production schedule, a picture to make in a certain time. Then they had a play to write for a certain date. 'Get to work,' I can imagine the boss saying to William. It's the chance of the poet to play for the queen. What can you offer? And listen, Bill, you're not to go around painting the town with Christopher Marlowe until this thing's done, mind you!"

Intends to Emulate Bard

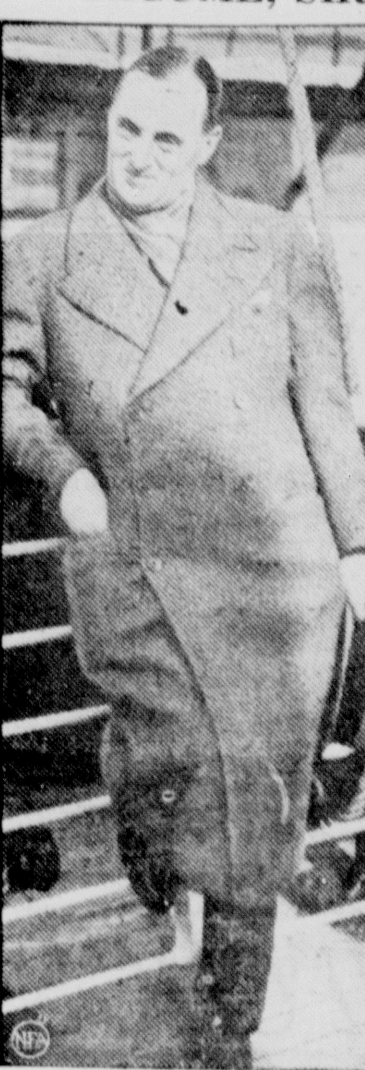

Lipscomb, veteran of English movie writing and already known for his "Clive of India," has shown frankly his intention to emulate Shakespeare in at least one respect. He intends to make money. Offered $6,000 for film rights to "Clive" by British producers, he and R. J. Minney, his collaborator, headed the $35,000 siren of Hollywood. So he came to know the Zanuck shouting, which he admiringly declares is exactly to the point, and so he stayed to do "Richieu" and now "A Tale of Two Cities."

Lipscomb's idea of "Hamlet" on the screen would be a fast-action melodrama stripped of excess verbiage the poetry of action and motion rather than of words.

"If Shakespeare were in Hollywood today, he would publish his screen work to plotting and writing dialogue in the language of common speech," he says. "And as for all the fuss about putting a 'Mrs. Bottom' into 'A Midsummer Night's Dream,' I'd wager Shakespeare would be the first to tell Reinhardt: 'Go ahead, put in two Mrs. Bottoms if you like!'"

Mrs. Moody Believes Her
Back Injury is Recovered

San Francisco, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Convinced the back injury which forced her out of competition has improved to the point where playing will help rather than hinder her condition, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody today availed only warmer weather to resume the practice that may carry her once more to the top of the tennis world.

"As soon as the weather is warm enough," said the former first lady of the courts, "I am going to play tennis again." That may be in a week or in three—it all depends on the sunshine.

How far Mrs. Moody will follow the comeback trail depends, she said, upon the progress she makes. She has no plans at present other than to resume practice.

Mrs. Moody, suffering from the back injury defaulted to Helen Jacobs in the National finals two years ago. She has not played since.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GALE HENDERSON, pretty and 25, works in a silk mill. She and her 19-year-old brother, PHIL, support their invalid father.

STEVE MEYERS who also works in the mill asks Gale to marry him. She promises to give him an answer in a few days.

Later that evening Gale goes skating on the river, goes through the ice and is rescued by BRIAN WESTMORE, whose father, now dead, built the mill. Brian asks Gale to wait while he gets his car but when he returns she is gone.

Brian has come home after two years in Paris, convinced he can never be an artist and eager to go to work in the mill. He is THATCHER, daughter of ROBERT THATCHER, general manager of the mill, schemes to captivate Brian.

Brian sees Gale in the mill and recognizes her. Next evening he asks her if he can walk home with her. Gale refuses but Steve sees her talking to Brian. Steve is angry and he and Gale quarrel.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIV

GALE had said to Steve, "I never want to see you again."

But of course she did see him. At noon next day she came face to face with him in a corridor of the mill. He was standing with a group of men and one of them—Tim Reagan—raised a hand in salute and called, "Hi, Gale!"

Gale looked at Tim and smiled. "Hello," she said, and hurried past without a second glance.

She saw Steve again at closing time. He was standing outside the big gate, talking to a girl in a green coat.

The girl was laughing as Gale and Josie Gridley came down the walk together.

"Hi'm," Josie said, "looks like somebody's beating your time."

"I guess you're right," Gale agreed. She went on talking rapidly about the difficulty the Shultzes had had, finding names for their new twins.

They passed Steve and the girl in green. Josie said, "Hi'o," but Gale had turned and was looking in the opposite direction.

"Saay!" Josie exclaimed, "you and Steve ain't had a quarrel, have you?"

"No."

"Well, gee, it looks like it—the way you went by without even speakin'. What's the matter? What'd he do to make you sore?"

It wouldn't do to have Josie Gridley broadcasting the situation, Gale said. "There's nothing the matter at all—well, Steve and I have been seeing too much of each other lately. I don't think it's a good idea."

"Listen, you can talk," Josie said wisely, "but you aren't foolin' me! You two've had a quarrel and you'd better get over it. There aren't many guys like Steve around. Gee, if I thought you was really through I'd make a play for him myself!"

"Go ahead," Gale told her.

But Josie shook her head. "No," she said. "You don't mean any of that you've been sayin'. That's just talk. But if I was you I wouldn't risk losin' Steve. Say—'with a sudden intention, 'It ain't anything about that red-head back there, is it?'"

Love Finds a Way—Leading to Bigamist's Cell

Joseph Love is done with love and the numerous Mrs. Loves are done with Joseph, but the law isn't. When two of his wives caught up with Joseph, he fled to Chicago police, asking to be locked up for bigamy. Appearing as shown here in felony court, he was held to the grand jury under $5000 bond. Left to right with him are Mrs. Viola Love, second wife, now divorced; Ellen Love, third wife; and Rita Love, No. 4, whom Love admitted he married without bothering to get a divorce from Ellen. Somewhere else is the divorced first Mrs. Love, Love plaintively admitted.

Here's All-America Contract Bridge Team

The group of men above, and the woman at left, have been picked by William E. McKenney, famous bridge authority and secretary of the American Bridge League, as the outstanding contract bridge players of America. The five men are McKenney's choice of an All-America team in contract. They are, left to right, David Burnstine of New York, Howard Schenken of New York, L. J. Haddad of Chicago, Aaron Frank of Cleveland, and Richard Frey of New York. And the woman at left, whom McKenney names "captain" of the All-America women's team he doesn't dare select, is Miss Elinor Murdoch of New York.

GALE was annoyed. She didn't like this question. "No," she said, "Steve and I didn't have a quarrel over another girl, if that's what you want to know."

INFLUENZA IS PREVALENT IN UNITED STATES

Tuberculosis Group Warns of Danger From Disease

Because of the prevalence of influenza throughout the United States, the Medical Committee of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association today issued a warning to the people of this state, and pointed out methods by which the disease can be avoided.

Officials of the United States Public Health Service say that influenza appears to be more prevalent now than at any time during the last five or six years. The disease does not exist in epidemic form, however, it is said.

The winter of 1934-35 should have been an "off year" for influenza, as figures of health departments show that the disease usually runs in three-year cycles. The last severe outbreak was in 1933 when 72,241 cases were reported to the United States Public Health Service during the first week of January.

The Illinois Tuberculosis Association's chief interest in the prevention of influenza is the relation of this disease to tuberculosis. During the severe influenza epidemic of 1918 and 1919, the tuberculosis death rates all over the country mounted to new heights. Lowering of body resistance as the result of influenza causes many tuberculosis infections to develop into tuberculosis disease.

"Influenza is a contagious disease," the association states. "The best safeguard against it is to avoid contact with people who have it. Stay away from crowds indoors, or wherever carriers may be able to pass the disease along to you."

Careless coughs and sneezers should be shunned. Research has shown that a hearty sneeze can spread germ-laden droplets a distance of nine feet. Care should be taken to keep resistance built up through proper diet, rest, and fresh air.

Those who have the disease should take extra precautions during convalescence to prevent relapses. Those who have colds should go to bed at once and call a doctor if such symptoms as pain and fever are present. Influenza patients should stay at home for the protection of themselves and others.

Prep Hockey Sixes Clash Next Sunday

Senior and Junior class hockey teams of Dixon high school will clash on the Rock river rink, near the beach houses, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. in the second prep hockey contest of the season.

Last Sunday "Mandy's Hash" led by "Pony" Underwood and "Butcher Boy" Snader undertook the rather difficult task of defeating "Rachel's Tea Sipper" and eked out a close 9 to 7 victory. This week Snader and Underwood will sport their flashing blades on the ice in the line-up of the Senior team. They will be assisted by Wodyatt, Flamm, Thompson and Reese, while the Juniors will be reinforced by Coakley, Murphy, Oakford, Miller and McMillan. The sixth party of the Junior has not been named as yet.

Saarlanders Flee on Road of Sorrow to Exile

Fleeing in terror from Nazi rule over the soil on which they have lived all their lives, thousands of Saarlanders stream in a sorrowful procession across the border into France, panic-stricken exiles carrying all their possessions in pitiful bundles, and dragging their children with them. This picture shows refugees plodding into Metz, where hundreds arrive every day, as Nazi leaders swing the mailed fist to crush all opposition in their newly acquired realm.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH
Lloyd Warren Walter, Pastor.
8:00 A. M. Divine worship. The morning worship is quiet and devotional. It develops a thoughtful and meditative attitude; it is good for the soul.
9:30 A. M. Bible school. Last Sunday most all the departments were slack in attendance. We will all have to do better, teachers and scholars.
10:45 A. M. Divine worship. Some one mentioned that the members of the church are appreciating the worship more. The people are attending better. We are growing more and more in grace is a probable reason why we are more regular in attendance and in larger numbers. However there is yet room for improvement.
3:00 P. M. The Junior Luther League meets. Juniors who miss these afternoon meetings are really missing a good time and also an opportunity for growth in leadership.
7:00 P. M. Senior Luther League. There is no better time or place to enjoy Sunday evening than with the youth of the church. The whole evening is for them. If you want a profitable as well as a pleasant time, drop in on Sunday evening; the meetings are held in the adult Bible school room, on the ground floor of the church.
7:30 P. M. Monday, the regular monthly meeting of the church council.
7:30 P. M. Wednesday mid-week service. We had another beginning last Wednesday night; the room was well filled with worshippers. Come and see how interesting this Wednesday service is. They are coming in fine numbers and you would better join the crowd.
2:30 P. M. Thursday the Ladies' Aid meets. A good and interesting meeting is promised.
2:00 P. M. Confirmation class meets with the pastor. There is yet opportunity to enroll. You are cordially invited to all our appointments.

Airing Hauptmann Heir Leads to Flight From Crowd

When Mrs. Anna Hauptmann took baby Manfred for an airing (as shown at left) in Flemington, N. J., the privacy to which she had been accustomed theretofore was shattered by the assemblage of a large crowd as she wheeled the carriage near the passing jury. The scuffling of the crowd started a fight. Troopers intervened. Mrs. Hauptmann fled to a store. Her bodyguard fled with Manfred (as seen at right) and carried him home.

BRITONS THINK OVER CHANCES FOR CUP RACE

Preparations For 1936 Race Are Beginning

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—C. R. Fairley, British sportsman, already has started preparations for America's cup yachting campaign in 1936—but whether he really will challenge depends on T. O. M. Sopwith.
Fairley, who owns Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's last international challenger, has been engaging a Portsmouth crew of selected professionals to race Shamrock V throughout the 1935 season. Shamrock's rivals will include Endeavour, Sopwith's unsuccessful challenger of last summer; King George's Britannia, and the Boston yacht, Yankee.
His idea is that he can develop a smart, well-drilled crew which would compete on even terms with the crack crews which man America's cup defenders.
"I've given serious thought to America's cup challenge," Fairley said, "but that's as far as it has gone."
"At any rate, I'll make no serious plans until Sopwith has indicated his intentions. He has priority."
Should Sopwith decide not to challenge again, Fairley said he would build a new challenger.
"If Shamrock couldn't win for Lipton," he explained, "I have no reason to believe she could win for me."

Traveling Around America

A LAKE THAT CAUGHT FIRE

THIS peaceful serene looking lake at one time in its career shot a fountain of fire and flames into the sky. During the day this eruption threw a dark cloud over the nearby capital, San Salvador; and at night cast a rosy glow over the city. When the fireworks finally subsided they left, in the middle of the lake which rose to its normal level, a raised island of lava about 350 feet high.
Today the excursion from San Salvador to Lake Chapetlan is one of the favorite inland trips enjoyed by travelers visiting El Salvador. On the former trip, between New York and California, it is a beautiful lake about 25 miles square, resting on a plateau 1,500 feet high and completely surrounded by towering mountains.
